LOGLINE:
After falling asleep at the wheel and crashing into a tropical fish store, a young Black coding savant from Richmond is sentenced to carry a live goldfish everywhere he goes for 30 days.

GENRE:
Romantic Comedy/Drama/Sci-Fi

SYNOPSIS:
Luke Scott is an aspiring computer programmer working in a dead-end job while living with his girlfriend in Richmond. After his girlfriend cheats and kicks him out of the apartment, he enters a late-night hack-a-thon event in Oakland. After he finishes the event he falls asleep at the wheel and crashes into a tropical goldfish store. The next day Luke wakes up in the hospital and is questioned by the police. The officers arrest Luke and soon after he’s Before a judge who sentences him to carry a goldfish called R.O.G.E.R who’s equipped with a GPS sensor made by a local tech startup called Nanotech. Soon after Luke is released he thwarts a thief’s attempt to steal an attractive woman’s purse. The woman, Penny Houston, blames Luke for being in on the theft causing him to storm off. Penny then attends Nanotech and is informed about a party later in the evening by her boss, Clarkson Miller. Although she doesn’t want to go her friend Jackie tells her it’s beneficial for her to be an active participant in their company culture. After a long and trying day, Luke heads to a local bar for a beer. The bartender tells him there’s a special event and he has to leave after finishing his beer. Luke finishes his beer but forgets his keys at the bar. Meanwhile, at the bar, Nanotech sets up for an 80’s themed party. Penny and Jackie attend and run into Luke. Penny to Luke for accusing him earlier and the two hit it off much to the chagrin of her boss Clarkson. Furious that Luke is talking to Penny, Clarkson orders him to be thrown out of the party. A scuffle ensues and is R.O.G.E.R by one of Nanotech’s security guards. Clarkson calls the police and has Luke arrested for inciting violence despite this being the furthest thing from the truth. Penny and Jackie collect cellphone evidence pointing to Luke’s innocence and Clarkson’s malfeasance. The next day Penny holds a video presentation showing Clarkson’s wrongdoings and he is fired by the board of directors. Soon after Luke is released from jail and Penny lets him know he won the hack-a-thon event and will be offered a job at Nanotech.
